TRINITY SUNDAY—God's Three Ways of Being

Many of us have a particular image of God. When we think of God, we may see Him in terms of the Sacred Heart or maybe our image of God is of a white-bearded grandfather-type figure who looks on us from a distance. But whatever our image of God, how often do we think of God in terms of Trinity, as three persons? Yet every time we bless ourselves, every time we begin and end our prayers in the name of the Father, and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit, that is what we are doing. We are acknowledging the Triune nature of Our God, that our God is three-in-one. One writer describes the Trinity as 'God's three ways of being there'. God as Father and creator is 'in us', Jesus as Son is 'with us', and the Holy Spirit 'enables us'. The Trinity is saying something to us about God's inmost nature. God is too big and complicated for our minds to grasp completely. But even though He cannot be fully explained we admire and believe in Him. It is even a deeper mystery why this infinitely intelligent and all-powerful Creator has freely chosen to love us. Another mysterious question is: How in the world did we ever get invited to His home, to live with Him forever? What a lovely mystery!

Novena to the Sacred Heart

commences on Thursday 26th May at 10am and concludes on Friday 3rd June

The origin of the idea of praying for a special intention for nine days is very attractive and worth thinking about - it comes from the alleged length of time that Mary and the eleven remaining disciples spent praying together in the upper room, waiting for the Spirit to come upon them at Pentecost. In our imitation of them in these nine days we'll surely be in good company, especially with Mary, the one who shows us what our attitude in prayer should be: she always trusted, despite confusion; she continued to hope, despite the seeming darkness. The disciples were a small community of fragile yet hopeful, trust of confusion, yet deep desire within their hearts. In short, they were probably very much like ourselves On each day of the novena, try to have a few quiet moments with yourself or with others to reflect. Always end with the Novena Prayer and include in it any intention you would like to make.

The Novena prayer will be recited each morning after the 10am Mass

St. Margaret's News - HE ACCEPTS YOU

Emotions can become so overwhelming that they drown out all reason. The adrenaline rushes and suddenly unfortunately words flew forcefully. Have you been there? Have you experienced the flood of remorse—wishing you could retract your words because of how disrespectful they are? Perhaps you even imagined that your tirade damaged your relationship with God. Fear not—God is unmoved. He is still with you and steadfastly accepts you. You see God knows your hurt, where your hurt comes from, and his main goal is to heal you. God is strong enough to bear what you say. Approach him with confidence. Read Psalm 73:21-23
